

Finite Blaschke products give rise, in a natural way, to curves known as Poncelet curves by connecting points on the unit circle that are identified by the Blaschke product. We will look at various connections between a Blaschke product and the curve generated by it. The talk is based on joint work with Carl Cowen, Pamela Gorkin, and Karl Voss.